Salzer's Choice May-Flowering Tulips

PLANT ALL BULBS AS SOON AS RECEIVED

Tulips may be planted in any good well drained soil. Set them about 6 in. apart and 6 to 8 in. deep. In very cold sections, cover with leaves for the winter but not until the ground is frozen hard. Covering unfrozen ground attracts mice which will eat the bulbs. We supply first size, genuine imported Holland grown bulbs.

They bloom in May, and in coloring embrace every conceivable shade of pink and rose, almost jet black, crimson, scarlet, purple to mauve, yellow and white.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

Salzer's single, early tulips are the very earliest to bloom, commencing to flower in April. The stems are quite tall, although not quite as long as those of the May flowering types, the length of stem being sacrificed for extra earliness. The flowers however, are as large and the colors equally as wonderful. For the very earliest tulips next spring, this Single Early type is the one to plant. The massive blooms are of good heavy substance and brilliantly colored. Tulips should be planted from October to December. The figures after each variety indicate the height in inches. Tulips should be protected with peat, or with leaves or straw, over winter. We offer first size bulbs. Holland grown.

LILY CULTURE

Plant in a rather shady situation, covering the bulbs three times their own depth. Protect from severe cold with leaves or litter and do not remove this in Spring until danger from frost is past.

For pot culture, plant immediately upon arrival. See that the pot is well-drained and place the bulb half-way down in the pot, just covering it with soil. When stem roots appear above the bulb, keep adding more soil as a top dressing for these roots to feed upon. Until the roots have been thoroughly developed, keep in a cool place and covered with straw. After about a month, bring into a temperature of 66 degrees, let the plants grow slowly under a bench or table till 6 inches high, then place on top of bench in full light.

ILLAHEE LAWN SEED MIXTURE

Illahee Lawn Grass Mixture contains a predominance of Illahee Fescue, the new wonder or Paradise grass. (See below.)

The mixture will do exceptionally well in both sunny and shady locations and will not brown in summer like other grasses, but will continue growing and retain its beautiful green color throughout the hot season.

Illahee Lawn Grass Mixture provides a heavy, deep rooted sod that survives on poor soils, and withstands hard usage or tramping.
